Section 1: Background

The following table represents a full and complete list of approved wager offerings pursuant to Iowa Administrative Rule 13.3. Any wager offering not explicitly stated below for which a sports wagering facility operator or advance deposit sports wagering operator would like to offer must be submitted by application to the Commission for investigation and approval.

Unless explicitly stated below, individual athlete and/or “prop” wagers and bets are NOT pre-approved and must therefore be submitted to the Commission for investigation and approval. Once a “prop” wager has been submitted and approved for one sport/league or operator, then said wager will become available to all operators under the conditions approved and subject to rule 13.3(2).

Written approval for all wager types is required prior to the offering of the wager. Once a wager has been approved, it is available to all operators under the conditions approved and subject to rule 13.3(2); before offering a wager, each individual operator must also receive Commission approval for its house rules regarding: the payout information, definition of an official contest, and source of information used to determine the outcome.

Section 4: Trial Periods

In accordance with Administrative Rule 13.3(1), the Commission may allow a trial period for a particular set of wagers. In these instances, operators will be allowed to offer the specified wager types for a predetermined amount of time. Typically, trial periods will last 60 or 90 days, but the exact time restrictions on trial periods can be found on this document. Operators who elect to offer trial wagers will be subject to the following additional requirements:

- Initial Notification: Operators must notify the Commission before offering trial wagers. Notifications must include all wager types and events that may be wagered on during the trial period. Notifications must be sent to irgceventwagering@iowa.gov and the appropriate local gaming representative.
- Status Updates: Operators must provide status updates to the Commission with a summary of betting activity and any other information as required by the Commission. Include the total number of wagers, amounts wagered, user ID or name of the player making the wager, operator's net win, patron complaints or concerns, and any integrity concerns or other relevant insights. Additionally, all wagers equal to or above $2,500 must be highlighted on the report. Updates shall be submitted to the Commission on the first business day of every month and shall include all wagers placed in the trial period's lifetime. Updates must be sent to irgceventwagering@iowa.gov.

There are currently no active trial periods.

Section 5: General Market and Action Wagering Notes

All-Star Games and Exhibition Matches

Except as noted elsewhere in this document, wagering on friendly/exhibition/pre-season, post-season, and all-star contests is authorized, as long as the specific wagers for such games are included in the approved wagers list and the governing body overseeing the match can be identified. Moneyline, head-to-head and proposition wagering on skills-based competitions in tandem with all-star games is authorized, as long as the results of wagers offered are based on official statistics from the game's governing body. (Ex.: Player X's Hardest Slapshot measured by NHL data; Player Y vs. Player Z's longest home run judged by MLB statistics; etc. )

All-star games or skills-based contests that feature players from minor-league or subordinate developmental leagues are not authorized. For example, the NBA Rising Stars Challenge and NBA All-Star Skills Challenge are not authorized because players who primarily participate in the NBA G-League compete as representatives of a G-League-represented team. In Major League Baseball, the All-Star Futures Game is not authorized because the rosters are composed of participants from MiLB teams.

RECENT UPDATES: 12/05/2024: New handball markets added; golf markets clarified. ## Section 5: General Market and Action Wagering Notes (continued)

Coin Tosses

The Commission considers coin tosses to be sports-related events, per Iowa Code 99F.1(28), and are permissible for wagering.

Game Totals

The approval of totals or over/under wagers includes wagers which would be placed on totals or over/under markets set for specific periods or in-game wagering, including but not limited to: halftime, quarter, inning, and period totals. Correct score wagers, or “results betting,” is also approved in relation to the score of a game or match at clearly defined intervals.

Head-to-Head Wagers

Head-to-head wagering refers to bets placed on events in which there are two or more competitors whose results or statistics could be similarly compared, but where the bettor selects one of the competitors to best the other(s) in the prescribed event or statistic. It is possible that the overall winner or leader of said event or statistic in a game, match or tournament could hold no weight in determining the outcome of a specific head-to-head wager.

Impermissible Prop Wagers

The Iowa Racing and Gaming Commission strives only to permit sports wagers that maintain decorum and good taste of sporting events and uphold overall event integrity. Examples of impermissible propositions include, but are not limited to:

- Inherently objectionable wagers (Will any player suffer an injury; time an injured player will miss; will any player be ejected from a game; will a player be arrested/suspended in or out of season; etc.)
- Officiating-related wagers (When will first penalty flag be thrown/foul be called; how many flags will be thrown/fouls be called; what type of infraction will be the game’s first accepted penalty; will a player receive a yellow/red card; how many bookings will take place in a half/game; what will be the result of the first coach’s challenge; etc.)
- Pre-determined and transactional markets (who will be the starting quarterback for X team; will a player be traded in/out of season; which coach(es) will be hired/fired; general roster decisions, etc.)
- Result of first-play markets (opening kickoff outcome; first play from scrimmage to be a run/pass; etc.)
- Negative outcomes determinable by one person in one play: Generally, wagers that would theoretically encourage individuals to act against their own interest or the best interest of their team are impermissible. (Examples: Kicker to miss a field goal attempt/kick a ball out of bounds; a quarterback’s first pass to be incomplete; a running back’s first carry to be under X yards; a running back to fumble; a player to miss an individual free throw; a tee shot to miss the fairway/green; a golfer to miss a putt; a player to serve a double fault; etc.)
- Individual point/pitch/shot markets in badminton, baseball, golf, tennis, volleyball

Individual and Team Awards

Individual player and coaching awards are generally permissible market categories within approved leagues MLB; MLS; NBA; NCAA Division I sports; NFL; NHL; and WNBA:

- End-of-season awards markets (MVPs, Cy Young, Heisman Trophy, etc.);
- Postseason and in-season tournament awards markets (ALCS/NLCS MVP, NCAA Most Outstanding Player, Super Bowl MVP, NBA Cup MVP, etc.)
- All-star game MVPs

The same general market categories are available in other Commission-approved leagues where awards are voted on by individuals covered in the approved league’s integrity policy. If voters consist of individuals outside the league’s purview, then the Commission may request additional information, including but not limited to evidence demonstrating that voting is collected in one of the following manners:

- by individuals covered under the league’s integrity policy;
- where an independent third party is required to maintain the confidentiality of the voting outcome until such time the award is announced;
- or if it can be demonstrated that votes are collected and tallied in a manner that will ensure the confidentiality of the voting outcome until such time the award is announced.

Individual and Team Awards (continued)

Otherwise, individual awards markets for regular-season contests must be submitted to the Commission for evaluation and approval. Team awards markets must be submitted to the Commission for evaluation and approval. Approved markets in these areas are: ACL man, woman, doubles team of the year; AFL Rising Star; NBA all-rookie, all-defense, all-NBA teams.

International Team Tournaments and Events

For international team events (i.e. country vs. country), only competitions involving senior national teams are permissible. Neither fully age-restricted tournaments (UEFA Under-21 Championship, FIFA U-20 World Cup, IIHF World Juniors, etc.) nor individual matches involving non-senior level teams (U.S. men's U-23, U-20 soccer national teams, etc.) are authorized.

Player Propositions

Common approved player proposition wager types include, but are not limited to:

- Futures/outrights
- Full game team/individual totals (Total yards amassed, total points scored, etc.)
- Partial game team/individual totals (Player X scores more than 15 points in first half, etc.)
- Golf statistics (Front/back nine totals, end-of-round leaders, etc.)
- Place betting for individual sports (top-5 finish, or top-10, 20, 30, 40, etc.)

Premier Division/League Wagers

Generally speaking, wagers are only allowed to be placed on the "premier" leagues for respective sports and NOT subordinate developmental leagues. For example, MLB wagers are permissible; MiLB wagers are NOT permissible. NBA wagers are permissible; NBA G-League wagers are NOT permissible. USL Championship league events are permissible; USL League One, USL League Two, and Super Y League events are NOT permissible.

Professional Sports Drafts and Draft Lotteries

Wagers offered on the MLB, NBA, NFL, NHL and WNBA drafts and their corresponding draft lottery results are generally approved. Other draft markets that are approved at this time include MLS and the Premier Lacrosse League.

Additional sports drafts can be submitted to the Commission for evaluation and must be submitted within five business days prior to the event's start date. Examples of permissible draft market areas include, but are not limited to:

- Individual overall selection (Nos. 1, 2, 3, etc.), or exact draft order of top X selections
- Common over/under wagers (player's draft selection order, number of players taken by position in a given round, number of players taken from a given team or conference, etc.)
- First player selected by a given team
- Position of a given team's first selection
- First player drafted at a given position

All professional sports draft and draft lottery markets must be closed for wagering 24 hours prior to the start of the event and cannot be reopened for subsequent rounds or days in which the event may be held.

Speculative Matchups

Offering odds and accepting wagers on conditional events that may or may not later be officially scheduled or played is not authorized. (Ex.: Team A vs. Team B point-spread matchup for the Super Bowl prior to the participants being officially determined, with wagers voided if that matchup does not take place.)

Tattersalls Rule 4/Post-Wager Odds Adjustments

The so-called Tattersalls Rule 4 and equivalent processes of potential post-wager deductions in individual or futures wagering are not permissible. In baseball, "action" markets are permissible for post-wager odds adjustments in the event of an alternate starting pitcher only if corresponding "listed" markets are also made available to players in which a non-starter results in a voided wager.

The sportsbook or vendor has the discretion to select when and how these in-game wagers may be offered, presuming the wager falls under an already approved wager type.
